Audio Production students gained valuable, hands-on experience in their respective field by putting on an End of the Semester Show on Monday, April 24th. Sound Reinforcement 4330 is an Experiential Learning Course (EXL) and is taught by Professor Frank Baird. Students develop and demonstrate leadership skills throughout this course by working on teams and learning various roles within the live entertainment industry. The students studying lighting, video, audio, and animation came together to provide live production support for the Songwriting Performance class and MTSU alums The Acorn People.

Also assisting with the production are the following faculty members, along with their respective departments:

- Brian Elliot: Theatre, Lighting
- Darren Leven: Theatre, Lighting
- Mike Forbes: Electronic Media Communication, Animation & Video Wall
- Marc Parrish: Electronic Media Communication, Mobile Truck
- Bob Gordon: Electronic Media Communication, Video
- Tammy Donham: Music Business, Public Relations
- Dean Hall: Songwriting, Performance

The Food Pantry for the event was organized by Omega Delta Psi. About 40 food donations were collected during the event to benefit the Student Food Pantry.
